FACULTY "FOTOS"

PAT MALONEY
TERRY RAGAN

"PREXY"

Santa Ana High School entered its fourth war time semester under the leadership of popular Terry Ragan. Confronting all difficulties and wartime limitations with his typical unconquerable spirit, Terry did an excellent job of leading the students in all activities. Pat Maloney took over where Terry left off and kept affairs rolling smoothly, meanwhile adding his own ideas and views to student government and lending his energetic personality toward their accomplishment. The trials were many, but Terry and Pat came through with flying colors, and proved to be two of the most capable student executives of recent years.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Board of Control, meeting once a week with their adviser, Mr. Robert S. Farrar, sponsored this year in conjunction with the Girls' League a successful Bond Drive and purchased a Sally Saint bomber to accompany the Sammy Saint bomber purchased last year. Also, on this enterprising groups list of activities appeared the promoting of the annual Student Body Ticket Campaign, the carrying out of Color Day, and several student talent assemblies. Emphasizing the improvement of school spirit and student morale, they innovated a pep assembly before each home football game and a successfully rally dance in mid-season.

First row: B. Simmons, A. Crawford, P. Maloney. Second row: T. Ragan, Mr. Farrar, D. Hamilton, D. Nelson, B. Holman, B. Harwood, B. Clayton, P. Klever, B. Ball.

STUDENT RELATIONS

M. Franklin
Good Luck

Taking over many new responsibilities, the Student Relations Committee assisted at the football games by decorating the goal posts and guarding the rooting sections, and supervising the noon dances in the hut. In addition to this they carried on their regular duties of keeping order in the school and on the grounds. Ably advised by Howard Youel, the group sponsored the annual Citizenship Week with an assembly, posters, and discussions in civics and English classes urging better citizenship. This industrious group composed of eight seniors, six juniors, and four sophomores did much to help the appearance of our school and encourage student morale. They were led in all activities by Pat Maloney and Bill Holman.

First row: P. Maloney, B. Holman, D. Givens. Second row: Mr. Youel, V. Osborne, C. Hansen, S. Christensen, M. Casteix, J. Davis, S. Palmer, M. Maloney, J. Rawding, J. Murphy, B. Sell. Third row: C. Martin, B. McGee, M. Kelly. Absent: J. Schlegel.

SELF-GOVERNMENT

Working hand in glove with the Board of Control and the Student Relations Committee, the Self-Government Committee, as always, showed its usual splendid enthusiasm and untiring effort as the judicial body of the school. This group consisted of two boys and two girls elected by the student body and a chairman. This chairman is usually the runner-up in the election of Student Body President. Aided by their adviser, Stuart Carrier, the group strove to work with the students, and so gained their trust and cooperation. However, this committee had the power to try extreme cases in student discipline and to recommend punishment. Fair trial and just punishment has carried the spirit of democracy into school regulations.

First row: L. Harding, V. Osborne, B. Givens, B. McFadden, M. Casteix, P. Tapscott, J. Krause, M. Ball, B. Simmons, D. Davis, M. Vanhoy. Second row: Mrs. Bouchey, M. Yost, R. Hill, P. Bradley, C. Cole, B. Sell, J. Robinson, L. Davy, M. Davis, F. Dannenbring, W. Parsons, Miss Bissell. Third row: B. May, A. Faulkner, B. Neff, C. Winkler, R. Brown, M. Kelly, M. Thorv'ck, P. Klever, C. Hansen.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

This organization, composed of every girl in school, has been one of the very active groups in school this year. Ably led by Presidents Rosemary Brown and Peggy Klever, and the Girls' League Cabinet, this club sponsored the Sally Saint Bomber Campaign in conjunction with the Board of Control. Spring activities of this club centered around the highly successful Co-ed Dance held in March. These girls aided school spirit by selling Saint football pins, stationery, and Sally Saint Christmas cards. The morale of the armed forces was boosted by the action of the league in sending Christmas greetings to former Saints in the service.

"BORED" OF CONTROL

The will to serve . . . the strength to lead . . . the ability to follow . . . the courage to accept defeat . . . awakening desires . . . untold of disappointments and worries . . . the joys and rewards that come with giving . . . the nucleus of leaders developing into the backbone of our democracy.

ALPHAS

This honorary club is composed of girls who have proved themselves to be outstanding leaders in school activities. Each year the group presents an award at graduation to the outstanding boy and girl of the senior class. The club took, as its main project, the designing and purchasing of a plaque bearing the names of all Alpha Award winners. The plaque was presented to the student body at one of the assemblies. Various projects such as selling candy during noon, and punch at the Mid-winter play were undertaken in order to pay for this tribute.

Seated: B. Simmons, G. Banks, W. Parsons, R. Kern, M. Crane, C. Cole, J. Kenyon, P. Tapscott. Standing: P. Klever, D. Davis, M. Ball, Mrs. Thomas, J. Krause, C. Hansen, R. Brown, D. Hamilton. Absent: M. George, P. Bradley.

BETA PHI DELTA

The Beta Phi Deltas proved their industry and patriotism by completing outstanding activities during the school year. At Christmas they collected needed items for the Red Cross, and, cooperating with the Junior Red Cross, they made clever tray favors for the wounded soldiers on various occasions. The girls did more than their share to make the Bond and Stamp Drive a success, and they took special pride in their patriotic achievements. Club members purchased sweaters with the club emblem attached to show their loyalty to the organization.

First row: L. Harding, B. Givens, J. Kenyon, J. Langhans, A. Patterson, A. Tallon, P. Baldwin. Second row: L. Maltby, C. Arnold, C. Hollingsworth, J. Tossell, J. Beyhan, M. Raitt. Third row: J. Dean, L. Fink, P. Hopkins, E. Crouse, V. Glover, V. Graves, R. Kern, M. Casteix, W. Parsons, A. Rogers, F. Buchheim, Miss Hardy, adviser. Absent: M. Ladd.

ENTRE NOUS

The members of the Entre Nous showed their patriotic spirit by pledging themselves to buy a defense stamp a week throughout the year, as well as to cooperate extensively with the Sally Saint Bomber Campaign. At the annual Harvest Ball the Entre Nous took charge of the decorations at the Masonic Temple, designing the setting and supplying much of the labor. For Thanksgiving and Christmas many tray favors for wounded service men were made and turned over to the Red Cross. This loyal club supported several other school activities with hours of tireless effort.

First row: V. Osborne, J. Elliot, L. Miller, B. McFadden, M. Crane, P. Bradley, P. Wells, M. Ellerrarns, S. Edgar, P. Tapscott, C. Spicer. Second row: Mrs. Burn , C. Davis, P. Vanderbeck, V. Kenyon, H. Rogers, D. Cardell, J. Burkett, J. Davison, P. Crowell, J. Krause, E. Young, B. Gisler, C. Morrison, E. Herzig, E. Russel. Absent: D. Nickel, N. Kipf.

Sitting: F. Bell, O. Nielson, G. Griggs, A. Crawford, D. Byrne, E. Lopez. Standing: Mr. Patton, M. Low, B. Corey, M. Maloney, A. Cox, B. Childs, T. Tapscott, G. Stoddard, L. Christensen, P. Maloney, J. Randall, B. Duffy, D. Matics, J. Woodsmall, D. Carmichael, T. Andrew. Absent: F. Nau, S. West.

PHILOS

Because of this year's club regulations and restrictions, the Philo members had to accept as their main activity the maintenance of their traditional leadership in student government, athletics, and in extra-curricular activities. But they were not content with just this, for the Philos Club threw its entire support behind the Harvest Ball and did its share to make the dance a success. Attempting to start another Philos tradition, the entire graduating senior membership of men enlisted in the United States Navy. Thus, after three years of service to their school these Philos men leave to serve their country.

First row: M. Hendrie, A. Cox, B. May, M. Palmer, D. Hamilton, R. Brown, M. Keily, S. Hillyard. Second row: V. McVeigh, F. Dannenbring, M. Hillyard, H. Taylor, H. Pappas, M. Willsey, S. Christenson, E. Squires, G. Popoff, B. Simmons. Third row: B. Montgomery, J. Robinson, Mrs. Householder, A. Emmert. Absent: B. Sell, M. Borkenhagen, G. Dalton, B. Smith.

ZETA T

Following the theme of school spirit, the Zeta T's aroused much enthusiasm during the basketball season by their sale of red and white pencils with the game schedule upon them. Peanuts and Coca Cola were sold to the rooters, and the money earned from this sale was used for many worthy causes. The girls enjoyed several joint meetings with other service clubs, and their cooperation with all school activities added to the success of many dances and parties. Due to the excellent guidance of Mrs. Margaret Householder, the girls contributed a great deal to student activities.

OWLS

The Owls did their bit for school spirit this year by presenting to the student body a large red and white banner with "Victory" inscribed on it. This banner was displayed in the hall after each victorious football game. Also promoted by this group for student morale were many side-splitting skits and the annual Basketbrawl, which was a huge success. Some very successful parties were held by the Owls, and their formal initiation of pledges was an occasion of splendor. This boys' interest club has displayed much enthusiasm while working in harmony with the other clubs and students.

First row: B. Taylor, W. Cole, S. Palmer, B. Stauffer, B. Ball, D. Wilson D. Magneson, Mr. McGinnis, M. Piper, D. Givens, K. Nelson. Second row: D. Smith, R. Mather, B. Clayton, T. Ragan. Absent: J. Hood, D. Adkinson, M. Hill, J. Moede, J. Walker.

d: B. Miracle, A. Winters, R. Hansen, B. Dennis, R. Mead, C. Daniels, J. Mahoney. Standing: H. Jordan, gger, D. Bretz, E. Kinney, B. Holman, A. Berry, W. Tibbs, J. Rawding, B. Turner, J. Poland, C. Martini, nson, J. Jacobs, B. Sullivan, R. Honer, H. Segerstrom. Absent: J. Davis, C. Schlegel, J. Brinkerhoff.

SIGMAS

The Sigmas enjoyed a year full of varied accomplishments and entertaining events. Selling tickets and handling the financial affairs of the Harvest Ball were but a small part of their schedule. Such activities as helping in the hut at the noon dances and cooperating in the Stamp and Bond Campaign kept the boys well occupied, and added a great deal to student welfare. The initiation of the pledges provided all members with excitement and amusement, and a fun-packed trip to Balboa added much to the pleasure and success of their school year.

WI TAMA PI

The Wi Tama Pi began the school year with admirable school spirit by supplying two hundred Christmas favors for the army hospitals and throughout the year they brought books and games to their meetings to be turned over to the Red Cross. The major activity in the spring was the annual Wi Tama Pi Tea for all departing senior girls. Their new adviser, Miss Maxine Knight, and the two presidents, Peggy Klever and Mary Ball, initiated many worthwhile projects for the betterment of the student body and the war effort.

First row: D. Davis, M. Ball, P. Klever, M. Davis, R. Raymond, M. Wright, B. Born, D. Buskirk, D. Warren. Second row: B. Main, L. Bradley, P. Hunter, C. Hansen, B. Welch, B. Glockner. Third row: M. Hill, M. Miner, W. Keenan, H. Lockett, B. Cochran, A. Borgman, B. Wortendyke, Miss Knight. Absent: B. Buckley, J. Marymee, V. Allen.

DELOS

Presidents Jim Dickson and Jim Murphy led the Delos through an active and interesting year. Their theme was promoting school spirit, which they accomplished through the sale of red and white rooters caps to many loyal Sallies and Sammys. They "mowed down" an entire hay stack and corn field to decorate for the highly successful Harvest Ball. To increase their personal prestige, they purchased a large satin banner inscribed with their coat of arms, consisting of a Greek shield bearing a sword and gavel.

First row: B. Harwood, H. Pendleton, D. Hildebrand, Mr. White. Second row: R. Jones, R. Carrillo, R. Brown, H. Bradley, G. Barr, R. Billingsley, D. Paull, J. Nelson. Third row: E. Winterbourne, B. Golden, D. Nelson, J. Murphy, P. Witmer, J. Weaver, J. Dixon, G. Boyd, D. Reed. Absent: C. Ranney.

Stoddard, C. Cole, J. Pickering, D. Matics, D. Rehm, R. Hollis, L. Nieblas. Fourth row: A. Berry, A. Crawford, B. Parris, A. Peterson, J. Weaver, R. Blackwell, D. Dietrich. Fifth row: J. Swenson, R. Bigonger, M. Clever, J. Brinkerhoff, B. McGee, P. Winter, B. Corey.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

Membership in the Lettermen's Club is open to all boys who have won a varsity letter in any sport. The athletes spend many hours training and practicing on the football field, the tennis courts, in the gym, on the track and baseball field, and in the school pool. Because of the outstanding athletic achievement represented, as well as the time spent in training, the boys consider this club to be one of the most honorary organizations in Santa Ana High School. Their adviser is the popular Coach Bill Cole.

CURRENT AFFAIRS FORUM

Discussing current problems, tudying other forms of govern- nent, arguing in behalf of better lemocracy, discovering some of he important necessities of the ost war world were only a few f the activities that the Current Affairs Forum tackled this year. Not to be outdone in social events, umerous parties were given, nd interesting guest speakers vere obtained from local political rganizations. Views of the think- ng student who is interested in ur vital problems were brought orth in this very successful year f the Current Affairs Forum.

COMMERCE CLUB

Through their untiring efforts, patriotic members of the Commerce Club, aided by their advisers, continued and substantially increased the sale of United States War Bonds and Stamps in their booth in the foyer. On their annual field trip on May 2, they visited the Orange County Title Company and received a first-hand glimpse of the problems and methods of a business house. This club, one of the largest in school, helped in almost every drive or campaign undertaken by the student body, and they materially aided sales in the Sally Saint Bomber Campaign.

ding: W. Philp, Mrs. Melka, E. Edwards, B. Brewer, E. Ault, V. Betlach, N. Rails, M. Waitz, M. Whitford, Porter, E. Crouse, W. Sorensen, C. Burrows. Sitting: M. Hill, E. Whitson, C. McLoney, G. Popoff, J. Krause, Edwards, G. Hunton, D. Hagbo, D. Davis, M. Thorvick, A. Conzelman.

ART CLUB

The Art Club expanded its membership this year by opening the club to all art students who were interested. This greatly enlarged group made possible more and varied activities. As a service to our armed forces, the club cooperated with the Junior Red Cross in making tray favors and menu covers at Christmas. Other activities included a trip to Bower's Museum, sketching meetings, and talks by Santa Ana artists. The culminating project of the year was the designing and making of a colorful set of curtains for the Army Air Base Hospital.

FRENCH CLUB

One of the many worthwhile activities undertaken by the French Club was the collection of ash trays and an assortment of games for the service men. Each member brought his contribution to the Christmas party which was held in the Hut. At the first party of the year French students came as guests of the club. Every member took part in the program, and the joyous evening was ended by the singing of French Christmas carols. The year brought varied activities to these language students, and always they upheld the honor of their club and school by doing their share in student affairs.

Davison, B. Bond, A. Harvey, L. Davy, G. Burroughs, M. Graham.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club, whose aim is to further students' knowledge of the customs of the Latin-American countries, had a year of education and social gayety. All the meetings of the year were conducted in Spanish, and the bright colors of the Spanish people surrounded each occasion. The year began with the annual selection of peones by the haciendados. After a week of servitude, they were initiated into the club by providing entertainment for the first meeting. The main event of the year was the Christmas party. The traditional pinata was filled with candy, and several blindfolded students tried their hand at breaking it. A typical Mexican dinner was served twice during the year, and a celebration was observed by the students on Pan American Day.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club with well over a hundred members is one of the largest clubs in high school. One of its main purposes is to help all Latin students to become acquainted, and to bring them together socially. The principle events of the club year are the biannual slave sales with the week of initiation following. This provides entertainment for the Latin students and the student body. This year the money made from the slave sale was given as the first and largest contribution to the United China relief fund. The big event of the year, however, was the Latin Club Banquet on May 9th, where the members dressed in Roman costumes, reclined at a banquet served in the old Roman fashion, and were entertained by songs, dances, and many clever toasts.

HONOR SOCIETY

The Honor Society and Roll is one of the most well organized clubs in school, and has promoted many projects for the benefit of servicemen who were formerly Santa Ana students. The most widely known is the Sammy Saint Mailbox, which has been carried on with such vigor that it has already surpassed last year's efforts. Other important undertakings were the sending of Christmas boxes to former Saints overseas, and collecting and making cartoon scrap books and other such articles for convalescent soldiers.

HONOR ROLL

The club members particularly enjoyed their annual ditch day which was held this year on March 14. The two excellent presidents of the organization, Allan Cox and Bob Ball, aided the group in completing its activities by their fine leadership, and kept the meetings lively and interesting. Special recognition was given to several of the members at the graduation exercises for outstanding scholastic ability in gaining membership in the California Scholastic Federation.

ACTIVITIES

ARIEL EDITORS

It was the indomitable spirit and a year of hard work on the part of the editors that carried the 1944 Ariel through to a successful and well-organized completion. Much credit belongs to the advisers, Mrs. Katherine Melka and Mr. Milton V. Newcomer. Pat Tapscott, editor-in-chief; Barbara Simmons, literary editor; and Wayne Tibbs and Carolyn Morrison, first and second semester business managers, were the students whose relentless efforts and many hours of work made a success of this, our yearbook.

ARIEL STAFFS

The members of the combined Art, Literary, and Business Staffs showed that same fine spirit that is typical of Santa Ana High School students. They worked together on planning, arranging and successfully completing the Ariel despite many war-time activities.

The plan of the Ariel from cover to cover, and the artistic success of the book were responsibilities of the Art Staff who spent many hours in discussing suitable designs, arranging layouts, completing art work, and in selecting, trimming, and pasting pictures.

The Literary Staff wrote, corrected, and edited all copy. It was also the job of this industrious group to identify picturesand contact all seniors for their activity lists. This staff, as well as the Art Staff, was under the efficient direction of Mrs. Katherine Melka.

Promotion and sales of the Ariel were effectively carried on by this year's Business Staff under the advisership of Mr. Milton V. Newcomer. It was the members of this staff who planned picture schedules for both senior and group pictures and distributed the Ariels to the student body at the close of the school year. Members of the Photography Staff could be seen any timeand every place throughout the year taking candid and informal shots of special events.

The members of these staffs worked very hard and overcame many obstacles. These dependable workers made sacrifices for the Ariel and created our yearbook. To them we owe a vote of thanks.

Here's a hope for your happiness

GENERATOR

Despite many difficulties encountered by the Generator staff, our school paper continued to be distributed to every student. This year a new idea was put into practice; that is, having five board editors instead of one managing editor. The members of this editorial board were Frankie Buchheim, Jim Dickson, Doris Durbin, Dick Smith, and Jimmie Sleeper. This scheme worked toward a more even distribution of the work.

The Generator staff and its very excellent adviser, Mr. John H. Duke, cooperated wholeheartedly with everything they were asked to do. They started the much needed clean-up campaign, sponsored the contest for the design of our own Sally Saint, and aided the Bomber Campaign with excellent publicity. The Generator was only published once every two weeks in order to conserve paper. Here, again, is an example of the willing spirit of our school.

One diversionary activity of the Generator staff was the grand journalism party held in the Hut in the middle of the year. Everyone in journalism was invited and the party was a great success.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Stage Door," by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, was given capably as the senior play. The cast was an outstanding one with Beryl Sell enacting the starring role of Terry Randall, supported by Bob Ball as Keith Burgess, and Terry Ragan as David Kingsley. Pat Tapscott, Ruth Hill, Barbara Neff, and Rosemary Brown gave additional fine performances. Mr. Herbert Bickel was the director and deserves much praise.

STAGE CREW

Efficiently and capably performed are the many back stage tasks of our school productions. Producing sound effects of all descriptions, raising the curtain, erecting and changing scenery, and handling lighting effects are a few of the many jobs done by the stage crew. Its ability and precision is displayed at concerts, lectures and at our regular assemblies. These boys, under the leadership of Mr. R. J. Shaffer, the stage manager ,may be proud of a job well done.

PLAY PRODUCTIONS

Starting off the activities of this year's Drama department a clever one-act play, "Suicide," was presented by Beryl Sell and Walter Sorensen in the assembly. For the annual Christmas assembly the combined students staged the appropriate "Why the Chimes Rang." With the instruction of Mr. Ernest Crozier Phillips, the class was made very interesting. Beginning with the basic fundamentals of the theatre, the students worked through direction technique and stage design to comical and dramatic assignments. The leadership was divided among three fine directors: Mr. Phillips, who began the classes; Mrs. Harriet Enderle, who took over the Mid-Winter play in Mr. Phillips' departure at the semester; and Mr. Herbert Bickel, head of the Music department, who graciously took over the direction of the Senior play.

MID-WINTER PLAY

The successful production, "What a Life," written by Clifford Goldsmith, was the mid-winter play this year. It was based upon an incident in the life of Henry Aldrich. Mr. Ernest Crozier Phillips, former head of the Drama classes, began direction but left with many regrets at the semester. Under the able direction of Mrs. Harriet Enderle, the rehearsals continued with a full schedule. The lead, Henry Aldrich, was played humorously by Walt Lowe; his girl friend, Barbara, by Billie Ellis. Terry Ragan did exceptionally well in the role of George Bigelow, and few will forget the hilarious characterization of the scatterbrained schoolteacher, Miss Wheeler, given by Romayne Kern. The cast was well-chosen, and gave a very commendable performance. A fitting finale to the play was the enjoyable cast party held at the home of Barbara Neff.

Mmmm—smack! . . . "No, it can't be," exclaims Romayne . . . . Gooey, huh Spice? . . . .

USHERETTES

Courteous and efficient is a inadequate description of th Usherettes in their neat and colo ful uniforms. These girls serve school plays, assemblies, and a student productions, and the help with tests and class election In spite of their many other re sponsibilities the Usherettes ar always present to do their job fo any of the outside functions hel in our auditorium. They are ex ceedingly admired by many Sant Ana people for their fine work a the Orange County Concer Series and at the Cantando Clu concerts. They have brought muc favorable recognition to th school.

The Junior Red Cross has done an even better job this year than last. The donation of a ping-pong table, games, puzzles, and ash trays for boys in the service is an example of what has been done by this group. Hundreds of Thanksgiving and Christmas tray favors were made for boys in the military hospitals, and a large number of Christmas cards and boxes were also sent. We are very proud to have an organization such as this in our school.

COACHES

Leading the Saints to victory this year was probably the best high school football coaching staff in Southern California: the two "Bills," big Bill Cole and diminutive Bill Cook. Bill Cole, former all-coast star for U.S.C., in his term of coaching here has always turned out a powerful eleven which, in winning or losing, has caused opposing teams many a pain and worry. Bill Cook's record at the Junior College is particularly outstanding. Twice he turned out national championship squads, and many times his gridmen won their conference crown. Putting these two exceptional mentors together was dynamite, as the Saints' rivals found out. A very large part of the credit and glory of our team's success belongs to coaches Cole and Cook.

Directing the "B" football team this season, as in the past two years, was Reece "Pinky" Greene. Better known perhaps as a producer of championship track teams, "Pink" nevertheless developed a hard playing squad, giving all the boys valuable experience in actual games.

Returning from the Junior College to coach the Saint nine, Coach Bill Foote turned out a powerful baseball team this year. Several years a member of the Santa Ana High School coaching staff before going to the Junior College, Bill was no stranger around the High School.

In his second year as tennis coach, Walter Egger, who produced a championship team last year, turned out another strong squad this season. Handicapped by the loss of many of his ace players from last year's group, Egger nevertheless developed many outstanding men during the current season.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

This will be remembered as one of the greatest teams in Saint history. After an uncertain start the Saint eleven came back, like the champions they were, to roll over all remaining opposition and win a tie for the Sunset League crown. In their first game the Sammies lost a heart-breaker to Anaheim, 7-0. Undaunted, our gridmen put on a determined drive for the league championship, conquering all rivals until the day for the big game with Excelsior arrived—Thanksgiving! Not to be denied, the mighty Saints scored a smashing victory over the powerful and favored Excelsior team, 14-0, and with it, won their share of the Sunset crown. During the entire season the S. A. H. S. student body gave energetic and spirited support.

Praise should also be bestowed on the valiant junior varsity, whose daily scrimmage with the varsity helped to put our team over the top.

Long runs, beautiful passes, spirited play, and a few bad breaks featured the Bee's season, as the little Sammies showed excellent possibilities for the varsity squad next year in winning two, losing two, and tying one.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Behind the leadership of co-captains Don Magneson and Don Matic and the expert coaching of Bill Cole, the Saint basketball team blaze its way through the Sunset League schedule to finish in second plac with five wins and one loss. Smashing Anaheim, Orange, Fullerton, Hunt ington Beach, and Excelsior, Santa Ana dazzled the opponent with it speed, beautiful teamwork, and accurate shooting.

The only defeat the Sammy five suffered was at the hands of th Champion Tars. Going into the third quarter with a small lead, ou team struggled desperately to stay ahead, but Newport slowly crep to the front. Fighting all the way, Cole's boys sunk two last secon baskets in a final attempt at victory, but the game ended too soon. Th Sailors won by the close margin of 33 to 31. The teams were very evenl matched, and Santa Ana can be very proud of its squad and coach.

B BASKETBALL

Although never admitting defeat until the final whistle, the Bees suffered a disastrous season, losing every league game. Handicapped by inexperience, Bill Cook's boys, nevertheless, gave a good account of themselves in each contest. Playing as many boys as possible, Cook turned out several players who showed promise for the varsity next year.

Anaheim, Orange, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Newport, and Excelsior were the teams the Little Saints battled during their Sunset league schedule. The Bees showed excellent teamwork during these games and always went down fighting, but their lack of experience was too much for them. With a few better breaks, Sammy Junior probably would have come out on top in more than one of these contests.

VARSITY TRACK

Handicapped by a rather small turnout, the varsity squad, behind track-wise Coach Reece "Pinky" Greene, proved to be very potent in almost every event. Duffy and Givens in the sprints, Ragan and Magneson in the hurdles, Saunders in the pole vault, Nickey in the high jump, Clever and McGee in the shot put, Ragan in the broad jump, Martini and Stauffer in the distances, and a relay team composed of Duffy, Ragan, Saunders, and Givens gave Santa Ana a powerful track team.

In all of Sammy's dual meets and in the Sunset preliminaries, the Newport Harbor boys proved to be the heavily favored contenders for the league crown. Although underdogs, the Saints looked like the strongest challenger to the Tars.

Doped as having a chance for only a close second or third place in the Sunset league finals, the Saint cindermen were determined to make their best effort to bring home the crown. Reinforced by several outstanding Bees, Nickey, Stauffer, and Martini, the underdog Sammy will undoubtedly prove to be a powerful candidate for the championship.

B TRACK

Completing an outstanding season, the Saint Bees proved to have one of Santa Ana's strongest teams in many years. Conquering all opposition in early meets, Daniels, Baird, Kinney, Schlegel, and Anderson showed great hope as varsity winners next year. In the Excelsior Relays, Southern Counties Meet at Huntington Beach, and the Brea-Olinda Relays some of the Bee cindermen competed with the varsity squad with exceptional success.

Although sacrificing some of their strongest trackmen to the Varsity, the powerful Little Saints figured to have ample talent left to cop the league championship.

With Chuck Daniels and Elmer Kinney copping first places, the Saint Bees did bring home the Sunset League championship. Battling desperately for first place against their closest rival, Fullerton, the little Saints won the relay and with it, the crown. When the teams lined up for the last event of the day, the relay, Santa Ana was trailing the Fullerton cindermen by a small margin. The Sammy foursome, composed of Anderson, Daniels, Schlegel, and Kinney, roared through with a close victory and gave the Bees a $32\frac{1}{2}$ to $29\frac{1}{2}$ win. Being exceptionally potent in every event, Sammy Junior will give S.A.H.S. a high caliber varsity squad next year.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Mentor Bill Foote returned from the Junior College this year to coach the Saint baseball team. Expert pitching, precision fielding, and hard hitting were all a part of the outstanding Sammy nine. With returning lettermen Sam West, Bob Reynolds, Melvin Friend, Lyle Christensen, Lester Nieblas, and an exceptional crop of newcomers, Bill Foote's boys proved to be a bad headache for their Sunset league rivals.

The Sammy nine showed tremendous power in their early season games, conquering Anaheim and the El Toro Marine Base by sizeable scores. West and Pickering showed great ability in pitching and hitting, each flinging winning games and hitting home runs in these pre-season matches. Because of their showing in these contests, Santa Ana figured as a strong contender for the Sunset Crown.

Lacking a coach, the Saint swimming team's mentor duties fell into the capable hands of Allan Crawford and Irvin Perry. Handicapped by not having a regular coach, the Sammy splashers nevertheless produced championship varsity squad and a second place Bee team at the Sunset League meet held at Huntington Beach. Although losing many athletes from last year's champs, the Santa Ana tankmen developed numerous point winners during this year. Behind Crawford, Perry, Paul, Brinkerhoff, and Low the Saints completed an exceptionally successful season. Although their handicap might have stopped most squads, the team spirit and cooperation was unusually high among the swimmers.

VARSITY TENNIS

Coach Walter Egger's tennis team was expected to finish near the top in league play. Bill Dennis and Ronald Heuvel, co-captains, and their teammates proved very powerful in pre-season matches. The sophomore and junior talent was especially gratifying to Coach Egger, and another strong Saint team is expected next year.

Losing their first five players on last year's ladder by graduation, the Sammy tennis men started the season handicapped by inexperience, and had to work hard to develop their high caliber team. Opposition was exceedingly strong, and the Saint netmen can be heartily congratulated on their outstanding success.

One of the outstanding features of the season for the Sammy netmen was their trip to Santa Monica for the Twenty-ninth Annual Dudley Tennis Tournament. Captains Dennis and Huevel, Smith, and Tapscott, along with three Sally Saints, represented S. A. H. S. at the tournament.

G. A. A.

To be eligible for the Girls' Athletic Association a girl must take an active part in team sports. An athletic letter is given to those girls who receive the required number of points, and at the end of the school year a special award is given to members who receive a thousand points. During the football season the girls did their part to further school spirit by selling red and white yarn dolls. In the spring the organization had their annual party at which all awards were presented. The capable president of this year's G. A. A. was popular Peggy Klever.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Quickly adjusting themselves, the Sophomore Class entered into the full swing of school affairs. Lending support to all athletic events, boosting the Color Day celebration, participating in Demonstration Night, attending all school dances and in every way cooperating to "put things over" was only part of their busy curricula. The life of a Sophomore isn't always the best one, as many will testify, for a greater per cent of those initiated into various clubs are made up of these unappreciated class members. In the field of athletics, the class was well represented with large numbers of boys on the football, basketball, swimming, track, tennis, and baseball teams. The girls too, not to be outdone, participated in such sports as tennis, swimming, volleyball, and baseball. It was one of their members, Vivian Betlach by name, whose artistic ability gave to the school "Sally Saint." With such a surplus of ability the class is out to do bigger and better things, and judging by this year's display, they will accomplish just that.

SAINTS ACTIVITIES

JUNIOR CLASS

Whether in the halls of student government, or on the field of athletic competition, the Juniors are training themselves as the future leaders of their school. Serious thought is being given by the individual members to the future and to the mission they are to fulfill in life. The Junior Class, as a whole, has realized that it is the duty of every loyal "Saint" to support all school functions. So in keeping with the school slogan, "More School Spirit," the class, by its whole-hearted support, has helped make every school dance, play, and party outstanding successes. But their activities were not limited to school affairs, for the class stepped forward as a leader in many patriotic endeavors. Book and magazine drives, war bond sales and volunteer work were all "chalked up" on the successful list. Even helping the school put over the "bomber campaign," was taken in stride. So as the Junior Class looks forward to its final year, it also looks forward to, and hopes for, a year of victory both for their country and their school. May God grant that they will not be disappointed in either hope.

SENIOR CLASS

For three years the Class of '44 has labored and toiled, played and enjoyed the times that are had only in high school. They have earned athletic awards, backed patriotic campaigns, achieved outstanding standards, and through it all have had a spirit of enthusiasm so typical of S.A.H.S. From the opening day of their first year the Seniors have demonstrated outstanding leadership ability. Student government, interest clubs and special activities have all acted as the testing ground for their ability. With this knowledge they are now ready to venture forward into a troubled world where their leadership is so direly needed. Like other classes before them, they had their "Ditch Day," an outstanding Senior Breakfast, a Senior Class assembly, the never-to-be-forgotten Senior Prom, and to end their high school career, that final night of graduation. But the time has come for them to look to the future, a future which, though now darkened with the clouds of war, will soon glow with opportunities for this and other classes who will follow. O Seniors! Step forth unto the world!
